The movie ‘300’: The Spartan army was at the centre of the Spartan state, whose male citizens’ primary obligation was to be exceptional soldiers. Subject to harsh military drill from infancy, the Spartans were one of the most feared military forces in world history; they fought with ferocious intensity. By the early 5th c. BC, Sparta was the unchallenged military master in southern Greece.

In 480 BC, the disunited Greek states were defeated by the Persian army under Xerxes. The Greek forces in the war were vastly outnumbered. The Persians had an army of 400,000 men, while the Spartans had only 7000.

The Persians were led by Xerxes and his general, Mardonius. The Spartans were led by their king, Leonidas. Leonidas was a brilliant tactician and strategist, and was known for his bold and aggressive fighting style.

In the battle at Thermopylae, the Persians were initially successful, but the Spartans fought bravely and courageously.

Leonidas and his 300 fought to the death to protect their lover. Sens. spiralling, spinning around a vertical axis, grappling in the air, plummeting downward.

Extreme fatigue; chest pain & heart.
